

ARNOLDO DIAZ

My art is characterized for having an inner light awakening in the observing public emotions of happiness, enthusiasm and joviality that bring a different vision of how to perceive our surroundings. Truth is that I have a passion for what I do and enjoy working with acrylics, oil, watercolors and other techniques.

As an artist I thank God and life for the treat of talent and motivation I receive every new day. The Tropical light, prolonged and close living in the Caribbean Sea impregnated my soul and artwork with color and vitality.

I often say "All of you in me! because some way or another each one of us has humanity inside and from there everything begins". In my artworks I approach light without shyness, with boldness and naturally in a new vision of POP-ART. The use of different techniques, diverse and plural daily life themes free and liberate my creativity and imagination.

"As creators we cannot conform ourselves with the best invention, the successful formula; we need to continue with the process, change and life".

My paintings recapture the lost reign of infancy, the simple and happy world, the joy and constant movement, almost sacrificing the sense of the ordinary image for color.

"Art transports us to parallel worlds that transcend universal levels of consciousness and help us integrate as individuals and humans".

It is thru color that I can best share and transmit my optimism and convincement that life is really beautiful and enjoyable, with infinite opportunities to make our world a better place to live in.
