

about me

.... everything we see .... we feel it ....

Designing is a way of trying to communicate the feeling that every space demands.

When designing spaces, I always try for the result to be both aesthetically positive and practically correct.

So for "the new" me, it was rather difficult not to be too strict using the lines in a different way than usual.

When I first came to the idea of also designing and making artworks
for spaces, instead of spaces, I was excited to be inspired by the art, architecture and the small objects of the past.

My intention is to bring that emotion, through the highlighting of linear elements,
the necessary color enrichment
and of course the use of new materials.

My inspiration and ideas address to anyone who wants to feel more than we actually see!!
