

Living in a reach artistic and cultural environment , with studies on graphic art , perspective art and esthetics, an ardent admirer of Croce's Esthetics and the history of trends and influences from Michelangelo to Andy Warhol , Laurentiu Ivan-Condache lives actually in a nest of contemporary artists in the heart of Transylvania , carefully sustained by west side influences and mecenat. Actually in many projects with art galleries from the south of France Côte d'Azur, Ivan-Condache Laurentiu paintings incarnates the heroic image of the seeking spirit.

"Considering that there is no such as a bad painting in which no good can be found, I invite you wise viewer to receive what I have painted but also what I have not painted from what I am showing you, look as if you are looking, do not laugh of these paintings and use there teachings; receive what I am giving you with the soul from witch I give it to you. Do not throw them to the garbage dump of forgetfulness, realize that you may find among them precious gold powder ... Stay well wise viewer."
