

Tracey Armstrong

Born: 18 March 1966

Lives: Johannesburg, South Africa

Tracey was born & raised in Rhodesia & now lives in Johannesburg, South Africa. Her maternal grandmother was an artist & Tracey's natural artistic ability was enhanced by various art teachers over the years. After working in the corporate world for 25 years, & longing to paint on a full-time basis, Tracey decided to take a leap of faith & has not looked back. Tracey's talent has attracted international interest & her art hangs in homes all over the world.

Tracey has a passion for painting African peoples & wildlife. Africa has a vibrant energy unmatched by any other place & Tracey's art captures this soulful energy with a quality & style that is indelible & everlasting, whilst also capturing a sense of elegance, serenity & movement. Negative space is a vital element leaving room for imagination & interpretation as well as portraying Africa's vast open planes. Tracey's approach to a more contemporary style has proved to be very popular & involves heavy layering of texture & various paint processes.
